Our Director: Jude

A familiar face and name once again graces the director's chair of the Sakakawea Area Council for the Arts' production of Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol." The production is part of this year's Dickens Village Festival.

Jude Iverson directs the 30th anniversary SACA production.

Iverson was there from the start. She recalled it was 30 years ago and she was SACA president and theater chair. Pat Crank Koenig was music chair.

"Early in the year she suggested we do a musical version of "A Christmas Carol" and bring in the Chamber of Commerce to do some special promotions on the days of the productions," Iverson recalled. The cast featured more than 40 actors.

Koenig met a couple in Minot who had some background with a Dickens Festival in Southern California. They were hired to direct the production, but it didn't work out, so Koenig and Iverson took the reins with only 3½ weeks to go.

The Dickens Village Festival was born.

"Over the summer, Pat had more ideas for expanding the whole festival concept and we had numerous brainstorming sessions," Iverson said. "By September, we held a townhall-type meeting at the Kota Theater. Forty-five people showed up and volunteered to either chair and/or work on the various subcommittees that had been created."

Iverson recalls she directed 6-7 plays and had small roles in a few others before branching out to be part of other aspects of the festival before focusing on her Bed and Breakfast, ideally called "Cricket on the Hearth" another one of Dickens' books.

With the 30th anniversary of Dickens and the SACA production coming up, she thought about doing something special. As the first production and director wasn't in the cards, she contacted Lisa Haugen, the musical director for the second year's production, to see if she was interested in reviving the play as scripts and musical manuscripts were still available. Haugen said she'd think about it.

No further discussion took place until a current SACA board member, Lisa Maki, inquired. Iverson agreed to direct, only if Haugen would come onboard as musical director.

With other musical talent, Chandler Hertz, Garrison High Musical Director, master pianist Deleene Wilcox and former SACA board member and stage assistant Peggy Huettl, the dream became a reality, and Iverson said she couldn't be happier.

"It's great working with these people," she said, "I'm loving it."

Iverson said her involvement and the history with the festival aside, she prefers to shine the spotlight on the contributions of the arts council and the local talent that continues to provide a production of "A Christmas Carol" year after year.

"Charles Dickens wrote a story, not a play," she reminds. "But his work has been adapted for the stage many times.

"SACA has been able to find a different script almost every year with only a few repeats and with several adaptations scripted by a local aspiring playwright. That's not an easy task."

Iverson said it's the dedication of area theater lovers who commit to two and a half months of long rehearsals, studying and learning lines whenever they can squeeze in the extra time, voluntarily sharing their talent with only a few minutes of applause as their reward.

"This is truly homegrown entertainment at its best," she said. "Few communities can boast such a gift and we should not only be proud but ever so appreciative of the dedication they give freely."

Putting together a production the scope of "A Christmas Carol" is no easy task. This year there are 13 crew titles from directors to makeup.

"It's not only the actors we see on stage, it's an amazing crew of workers behind the scenes," she said. "It's weeks of rehearsals along with time spent on each's own learning lines, working on characters, remembering all the stage moves. And in many cases, helping with other aspects like sets, props and costuming."

A musical is doubly hard, she said.

The camaraderie, friendships made, and acquaintances renewed ties the festival to Charles Dickens and it's the one entertainment that has been a constant for 30 years.

"And it's all home grown," she said.

"For all your automotive needs!"

Who is Charles Dickens?

Born in Portsmouth, England February 7, 1812, Charles John Huffam Dickens was an English writer and social critic.

He created some of the world's best known fictional characters and is regarded as the greatest novelist of the Victorian era.

His works enjoyed unprecedented popularity during his lifetime, and by the 20th Century, critics and scholars recognized him as a literary genius. His novels and short stories enjoy lasting popularity.

Despite his lack of formal education, he edited a weekly journal for 20 years, wrote 15 novels, five novellas, hundreds of short stories and non-fiction articles, lectured and performed extensively, was an indefatigable letter writer, and campaigned vigorously for children's rights, education, and other social reforms.

Dickens's literary success began with the 1836 serial publication of The Pickwick Papers.

Within a few years he had become an international literary celebrity, famous for his humor, satire and keen observation of character and society.

His novels, most published in monthly or weekly installments, pioneered the serial publication of narrative fiction, which became the dominant Victorian mode for novel publication.

The installment format allowed Dickens to evaluate his audience's reaction, and he often modified his plot and character development based on such feedback.

He died of a stroke June 9, 1870, leaving his final novel, The Mystery of Edwin Drood, unfinished.

He is buried in the Poets' Corner of Westminster Abbey.
Charles Dickens | Feb. 7, 1812 – June 9, 1870

Some of Dickens' literary successes:

Pickwick Papers • David Copperfield • A Christmas Carol
The Cricket on the Hearth • Oliver Twist • A Tale of Two Cities • The Life and Adventures of Nicholas Nickleby

- He was forced to leave school at the age of 12 to work in a boot blacking factory along the River Thames when his father was incarcerated in a debtors' prison.
- In 1833, he began submitting sketches to various magazines and newspapers under the pseudonym "Boz."
- Dickens began writing "A Christmas Carol" in October 1843. It was finished by the end of November and was published in time for Christmas.
- Dickens and his wife, Catherine, (Hogarth) had 10 children before the couple separated in 1858.

Tribute to Father Christmas!

By Jean Witt, Dickens Village Festival committee member

We all recognize the special man in the red suit as he's done it for years,

And now he is hanging up his red suit, bringing on the tears.

The children all loved to see him walking up and down the street,

Knowing that he would be bringing with him a special treat.

The Christmas candy cane he hands them out dozens at a time.

His wicker basket is worn, the candy canes frozen, but this special man in his red suit with his heart of gold stays cozy warm.

His special smile everyone knows, his merry eyes they shine with glee,

While he asks the children if they have been naughty or nice, guess we'll see.

Walking up and down the street and smiling at everyone he meets,

Through snow and ice, slipping and sliding, with his trusty walking stick, young and old, he gives them all a greeting.

We'll miss his rosy red cheeks, his bright shining eyes, but understand he's walked his miles as he hangs up his red suit.

He will still be around for all to see and greet and give a friendly smile as he's just going into "retirement" for a while!

Thank you Father Christmas, our special man in the red suit, Donn Vetter.

Milk and Cookies with Santa Saturday, Dec. 9

N.D. Firefighter's Museum

The N.D. Firefighter's Museum, on Main Street, is a popular attraction that ranks with Wally Walleye.

During the Dickens Village Festival the museum and hall of fame is open to the public from noon to 7 p.m.

Guests are welcome to come in from the cold and tour the museum. See who are members of the North Dakota Firefighter's Hall of Fame.

Public restrooms are located on the main floor.

The museum is dedicated to preserving and presenting stories of the firefighters of North Dakota.

Just south of the museum is the N.D. Fallen Firefighter's Memorial that honors fallen firefighters who lost their lives in the line of duty.

Garrison Lamplighters

The Garrison Lamplighters (Senior Center), located on Central Avenue and adjoining City Hall, is another location to relax and warm up, or both! The center is open from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. each day of the festival.

Festival of trees, and treats.

Evangel Church

Grab a table, coffee or hot chocolate and let your kids enjoy activities at Evangel on Main Street. We have a bounce house and play gym for toddlers, coloring for everyone and snap a polaroid in costumes with the whole family! We also have outdoor heaters to stay warm under during the lighted parade. We will be open 2-6pm each day.

Looking for the perfect souvenir?

Located at Piccadilly Square, the Dickens Village Festival will have something to suit everyone's needs at the Souvenir Shoppe. It will include merchandise direct from London. Some souvenir items include: Dickens Festival Ornaments, Double Decker Bus and London Telephone Banks, British Tea Gift Sets, Lapel Pins, Dickens Books and more.

Pinching pennies

While you are checking out the shoppe don't forget to "pinch your pennies"!

There will be four designs to choose from: Scrooge and Tiny Tim, Wally the Walleye adorned with a top hat, a horse and carriage and the Queen Elizabeth. A "passport" book is offered that accommodates the various designs.

Santa's Reindeer are here

The Dickens Festival is flying in Santa's Reindeer for one special day, Saturday, November 24th. The reindeer may not be actually flying in from Santa's Workshop, but the Hoselton Reindeer Ranch out of Drayton, ND are home to the reindeer. Enjoy a close-up view and selfie opportunities with the reindeer from Noon-2:00pm located in the empty lot next to the Cubby Hole (Quilt Show). Tickets at the door for $5 for ages 5 and up.
