Ramstein AB Airmen honor U.S. veterans in Belgium

86TH AIRLIFT WING PUBLIC AFFAIRS

RAMSTEIN AIR BASE, Germany (AFNS) -- Bad weather did not deter Airmen from Ramstein Air Base, Germany, from celebrating Veteran's Day Nov. 11, 2017, at Henri-Chapelle American Cemetery and Memorial in Belgium. The ethereal curtain of fog and delicate rainfall only added to the poignancy of the ceremony.

The Airmen, who hail from the 86th Civil Engineer Group, maintained their bearing and honored all of America's veterans—both the living and the dead. An honor guard team from Spangdahlem AB also played an important role in the event.

The ceremony included speeches, a wreath-laying presentation, a three-gunshot salute, and a playing of the Belgian and American national anthems. The event was attended by both U.S. and Belgian civilians as well as members of the American Legion.

"It is both fitting and proper that we have all come together at the Henri-Chapelle American Cemetery," said Col. Brian Hartless, 86th CEG commander. "This hallowed ground is the final resting place for 7,992 American military heroes who answered the call and were willing to risk it all so that others might continue to live in freedom."

Hartless went on to list the names of notable Airmen buried at the cemetery and the acts of heroism they committed during World War II.

Veterans Day in the U.S. coincides with Armistice Day across different countries in Europe including Belgium. While Armistice Day began as a day to mark the end of World War I, it expanded as a day of recognition for veterans of all wars. Because the armistice that ended World War I affected most of Europe, the holiday commemorating it varies from country to country.

During his speech, Hartless highlighted the significance of the holiday, adding that it illustrates the commitment of U.S. service members to serve their country and build partnerships with their allies. Since World War I, the U.S. has made great strides to promote its ideals in the world, he said.

"Unfortunately, World War I was not the 'war to end all wars' and the world is just as perilous today," said Hartless. "In the last century, the United States has been a force for good in a dangerous world. We have been a champion of freedom, individual liberty and human dignity in even greater conflicts."

Goldfein honors veterans during event at Quantico National Cemetery

TECH. SGT. DAN DECOOK | SECRETARY OF THE AIR FORCE PUBLIC AFFAIRS

Quantico, Va. (AFNS) -- Chief of Staff of the Air Force Gen. David L. Goldfein honored veterans during a keynote speech at Quantico National Cemetery Veterans Day Ceremony in Quantico, Virginia, Nov. 11, 2017.

"Our nation is rich with heritage and tradition, and few surpass that of honoring our veterans, both alive and passed," said Goldfein. "This is one of our greatest traditions; and, as one of many veterans in my family, I am honored to be here."

The Veterans Day ceremony at Quantico National Cemetery is an annual event hosted by the Potomac Region Veterans Council. More than 100 veterans and their families attended this year's event featuring performances by the Quantico Marine Corps Band and color guard.

"No matter how or when you served, you are part of a family; and that's what these kind of ceremonies are all about -- family," said Army (Ret) First Sgt. Julio Santiago. "We come together to honor our brothers and sisters, we come together to honor those who came before us, and we come together to show those who come after us that there is honor in serving this great country."

According to the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs, the celebration of Veterans Day honors America's veterans for their patriotism, love of country, and willingness to serve and sacrifice for the common good.

"We are woven by the good, the bad and the ugly times experienced together. For some it is the uncommon valor, for others it is the quiet peace," said Goldfein. "Our

Keep safety in mind in seasonal, holiday plans

DARLENE Y. COWSERT | AIR FORCE SAFETY CENTER PUBLIC AFFAIRS

KIRTLAND AIR FORCE BASE, N.M. (AFNS) -- Temperature changes, shorter daylight hours, increased travel and emotional overload are hallmarks of the fall, winter and holiday seasons that safety officials say result in preventable mishaps.

"It's as simple as taking the same safety practices and procedures we use on duty and applying them to our off-duty activities," said Maj. Gen. John T Rauch, Air Force Chief of Safety. Every Airman should maintain a safety culture, he said, from following the fundamentals on duty to using sound risk management and making smart decisions off duty.

"I urge every Airman -- uniformed and civilian -- to take the time to thoroughly think through your holiday plans and use sound risk management when traveling and participating in the seasonal and holiday activities," Rauch said.

Occupational safety experts at the Air Force Safety Center track mishaps through the fall-winter-holiday period from the Monday preceding Thanksgiving Day to the day after New Year's Day. Mishaps for those periods over the past five fiscal years resulted in 25 serious off-duty mishaps; 20 deaths, one permanent total disability and four permanent partial disabilities. Motor vehicle mishaps made up the majority with 15, followed by sports, recreation and individual fitness with five.

"While we know that one fatal mishap is too many, it's especially disheartening when we see that most of these mishaps were preventable," said Bill Parsons, Air Force chief of occupational safety. "If every Airman commits to making risk management part of every activity -- on duty and off duty -- I'm convinced there will be more Airmen who return to duty after the holidays with great memories and stories to share."

While most serious off-duty mishaps involve motor vehicle operation, safety experts agree that potential dangers in the home and in recreational activities must also be managed effectively to save lives and reduce serious injuries.

All Airmen and their families can use the following safety checklists to keep seasonal and holiday travels, celebrations and activities safe.

For your home:

- Supply of flashlights, batteries and blankets
- Salt or sand for treacherous sidewalks and driveways
- Safe, radiant space heater (no open coils)
- Supply of medications and food
- Smoke and carbon monoxide detectors

For your car:

- Check fluid levels, service belts and hoses
- Ensure heater and defroster are working
- Check tire pressure and tread
- Check brakes within the last 5,000 miles
- Test turn signals, brake and headlights, and four-way hazard lights
- Change cracked or worn windshield wiper blades
- Stock emergency kit (blankets, flashlights, water, energy bars, warning triangles, first aid kit, etc.)

While driving:

- Driving and texting make a lethal combination; don't let your next text be your last

- Alcohol and driving ... don't do it

- Plan your outing ... know the area and pack accordingly
- Slow down ... enjoy the drive

- Get a good night's sleep and take frequent rest stops

If stranded on the roadway:

- Stay calm; get your vehicle as far off the road as safely possible; turn on emergency flashers
- Call or text roadside assistance or 911; keep windows and doors locked until help arrives
- Make your vehicle visible; open the hood or tie a brightly colored object to the antenna
- Remain in the vehicle unless help is visible within 100 yards; don't risk exposure
- Run engine periodically to keep the vehicle warm; ensure car exhaust pipe is clear of snow that could block the discharge; crack a window to avoid carbon monoxide buildup
- Move fingers, toes and change seated position frequently to avoid frostbite

AU-ABC program expands enlisted education opportunities

ETHAN STOKER | MAXWELL AIR FORCE BASE PUBLIC AFFAIRS

MAXWELL AIR FORCE BASE, Ala. (AFNS) -- Airmen join the Air Force for a variety of reasons, but perhaps the most common is for the service's vast educational opportunities.

The Air University-Associate-to-Baccalaureate Cooperative program, or AU-ABC, is perhaps a little-known opportunity that can reap big rewards.

The AU-ABC was created to help enlisted Airmen pursue advanced education beyond the associate degrees they earn through the Community College of the Air Force. The program links CCAF graduates to accredited civilian academic institutions that offer online or distance learning bachelor's degrees.

Since its inception in 2007, the AU-ABC program has helped more than 104,000 Airmen complete nearly 203,000 courses at civilian institutions, resulting in the completion of 4,396 bachelor's degrees. Of those Airmen who earned their four-year degrees through the program, 94 have commissioned as officers in the Air Force.

"The AU-ABC program arguably provides our enlisted Airmen the most efficient path to earn a bachelor's degree. The Air Force is committed to helping Airmen maximize realization of their academic potential because educational advancement increases knowledge and enhances the critical thinking skills the Air Force needs to be successful," said Lt. Col. Nathan P. Sherman, CCAF commandant.

Veterans have a love for this great nation and the sacred duty of protecting it. These are the most humble men and women who are just doing their job."

Veterans Day was originally known as "Armistice Day" after World War I fighting ceased at the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month – Nov. 11, 1918.

President Woodrow Wilson proclaimed Nov. 11 as the first commemoration of Armistice Day in November 1919. After World War II and the Korean Conflict, Congress approved changing the name from "Armistice Day" to "Veterans Day," marking Nov. 11 as a day to honor all American veterans, wherever and whenever they served.

"Today, we celebrate a single mark on the calendar—one of many—but this mark celebrates the noble acts of a noble group," said Goldfein. "I'm reminded each day that it's a privilege and honor to serve our country, and I am inspired by a distinguished population who so proudly came before...and those who so selflessly followed."

are 59 higher education institutions that have partnered with the Air Force to provide 217 degree programs for Airmen. The program includes postsecondary schools with regional accreditation or accredited by the Distance Education and Accrediting Commission. Airmen can search the Air Force Virtual Education Center (<https://afvec.langley.af.mil/afvec/Home.aspx>) to see a list of the civilian institutions that have partnered with the Air Force to support this program.

One benefit of the AU-ABC program is that in most cases CCAF graduates are guaranteed to take no more than 60 semester hours in order to complete a bachelor's degree by the civilian institution. Often, students can use tuition assistance, Montgomery GI Bill or Post 9/11 benefits to help pay for the tuition costs.

The program provides the critical flexibility needed to fit into the busy-on-the-move lifestyle of today's Airmen.

"I had moved multiple times and the schools never transferred all the credits.

They always wanted me to start over or this class didn't match theirs. Just having the benefit of guaranteeing at least 60 credit hours in those category 1 programs was a huge benefit," said 2nd Lt. Ryan Garrett in an interview with Joint Base San Antonio's 12th Flying Training Wing Public Affairs Office early this year. Garrett is a prior enlisted Airmen who took advantage of the program to receive his commission.

The program is open to enlisted active duty, Reserve and Air National Guard Airmen. If students are unable to complete the degree requirements before retirement or separation from the Air Force, they may continue in the program until completion.

Airmen who want to learn more about the AU-ABC program can go <http://www.airuniversity.af.mil/Barnes/CCAF/>.

Civilian academic institutions who want more information about the AU-ABC program or would like to become a partner can contact the program manager at ccaf.decm@us.af.mil.

How To Make Thanksgiving Honey Ham in the Slow Cooker

INGREDIENTS:

- 3/4 cup packed light brown sugar
- 1/2 cup honey
- 1/2 cup water
- 1/4 cup Dijon mustard
- 10 whole cloves
- 1 (8- to 10-pound) spiral cut ham

EQUIPMENT:

- Measuring cups and spoons
- Small saucepan
- 6-quart or larger slow cooker
- Baster or brush

INSTRUCTIONS:

Make the glaze. Combine the brown sugar, honey, water, mustard, and cloves in a small saucepan and bring to a simmer over medium-high heat. Cook until the glaze is homogeneous and fragrant from the cloves, about 5 minutes. Remove the cloves with a spoon. Prepare the ham. Place the ham in a 6-quart or larger slow cooker, making sure you can put the lid on. You may have to turn the ham on its side, or trim a bit off the top if your ham is too large. Gently pull apart the ham's slices and separate them. Add the glaze. Pour the glaze over the ham, trying to cover as much of the ham as possible, but not worrying too much, as the glaze will fall back into the slow cooker. Cook the ham. Cover and cook on the LOW setting for 4 to 5 hours. Every hour (or as you remember), baste the ham with the glaze. You can also flip the ham halfway through cooking, if desired. Serve. The ham is ready when it reaches an internal temperature of 140°F. Serve with the thickened glaze.

Recipe Notes:

Make ahead: The glaze can be made up to 3 days ahead and stored in the refrigerator.

Storage: Store leftover ham in its juices in an airtight container in the refrigerator for up to 5 days.

Soñe Spa Sets the Bar for Relaxation

BETH DUCHSHERER | NORTHERN SENTRY

When Danerys Sarinas and her family transferred to Minot Air Force Base, she noticed there were not a lot of cultural shops or services. Most of these services being derived mainly from the Eastern Europe areas. Danerys decided she wanted to bring her amazing passion for service to others to Minot, ND. This new spa offers eastern and western approach to massage and spa services.

The difference in the cultural therapies are described as the eastern approach channels the energy of an individual to bring about integration of the mind and body, cleanses a person's aura and manifests a person's desires through healing the mind and reconnecting it to its body. The western approach focuses on the physical aspect such as easing aching muscles, loosening tight fascia, and providing relief to the physical body. Combining these two therapy approaches has allowed Danerys to develop a unique and serene experience exclusively at Soñe Spa.

What is the meaning of Soñe you may be wondering? In Spanish Soñe means "I have dreamt". It surely adds to the serenity of this amazing spa. This location was known as a hidden gem but has gained so much exposure due to Danerys' work that we figured we should share.

Danerys' vast experience and training working in five star spas in Florida speaks volume. She brings forth to her spa her own flair. She considers it to be a journey. "A tropical journey with eastern and western inspired services.

You can take in the aroma of lemongrass, guava, pineapple and so many tropical scents that it makes you forget winter is here.

In the past year Danerys has built an amazing clientele as a massage therapist and with these new services being offered, we are sure that she will cater to all of Minot. Danerys offers Massage therapy services, Infrared Sauna with chromotherapy (Color therapy), Hydrotherapy bath rituals to die for, and get this; she is opening up Minot's first Salt room known as Halotherapy. Halotherapy is described on their website "as a natural and safe therapy with no side effects. A majority of people who visit salt rooms on a regular basis may find relief from a variety of respiratory conditions such as asthma, allergies/sinus infections, common cold, bronchitis, skin conditions, fibromyalgia, and so much more."

Soñe Spa can be reached at (701)335-8243 and is located at 700 Western Avenue in Minot (The old artistry building). They are reasonably priced for everyone to be entitled to the services she offers. Danerys believes that "taking care of yourself shouldn't break the bank. You deserve your time at a reasonable price so that you can maintain it and allow yourself to make it a holistic regimen." Her focus is the exceptional quality of services that Soñe

Spa offers. All services can be A la Carte or combined to receive the multiservice discount. Along with Danerys' devotion to giving back in service to others and to the community, she offers teachers, active military and spouses as well as emergency responders an additional discount off their services.

To find out more information about Soñe Spa visit them online at
