GHS HAS A NEW SUPERSTAR

The NASA TechRise Student Challenge is a national competition sponsored by NASA and administered by Future Engineers that encourages students in the US to design experiments for suborbital rockets or high-altitude balloons. This was the first year that White Shield School submitted their project to the competition.

And it paid off!

"Our school was one of sixty winning teams across the nation to be selected as a winner," Gifted and Talented Program Advisor Seleena Briones said. "And as winners, our team will have the opportunity to build and test our experiment with support from NASA and industry experts."

UNDERWOOD WAIVES ZONING ORDINANCE IN PORTION OF HARDWARE DEMOLITION

Portions of foundation will not be demolished in Underwood as part of the hardware store demolition as it was built under city sidewalks. The city of Underwood commission met Jan. 21 at the city hall where Diane Schell of the Underwood Area Economic Development Corporation discussed the demolition at 120 Lincoln Ave. That location used to house the old hardware store, which was tore down in December as part of steps the city is taking to revitalize the area.
